2004 Half-year scenario

Western Europe

- weak demand due to economy stagnation
- high inventory in the pipeline (due to hot and dry weather during summer 2003) affected 1st Q sell-in. In 2nd Q sell-in/sell out again balanced.

Eastern Europe

- increasing demand for first buy (enter level products)

USA

- strong demand mainly for replacement products driven by GDP growth

Worldwide

- strong competition due to USD weakness vs €

Products

- growth in demand for chain saws
- lower sell-in for lawn and garden equipment
- new emission regulations in Europe since August 2004
- strong competition for entry level products from China

2004 Half-year Results

Comments

- Increase of total sales by 2,9%
- Decrease of domestic sales mainly due to high inventory in the pipeline (sell-in lower than sell-out)
- Increase of European sales by 8,5% in a flat market
- Operating income adversely affected by:
  - increased investments in development of new product
  - marketing activities for build up of brand awareness
  - costs for start up of China plant

2004 Full year scenario

Outlook

- estimated sales increase in line with 1st half
- operating income in line with 2003
- increase of costs for raw materials and components partly off set by:
  - internal efficiency
  - cost savings
  - outsourcing in countries with lower base cost
